

Our no telephone solitation law in Indiana has significantly improved our family life time from unsolicited interruptions as well as not preying on my 82 year old mother in her house. I resepectfully request that any federal law not be less stringent than the State of Indiana's current law. Simply stated: It works, don't compromise (ie. break) it with new federal regulations that are less restrictive.